Slimline's queuing and merchandising system provides retailers with the opportunity to create extra selling space and increase sales at the point of purchase. Using a series of vertical posts you can design a simple guidance system by incorporating horizontal beams, tensioned belts and plain infill panels or a fully merchandised display solution using metal or timber panels with a vast array of product display accessories, including trays, shelves, baskets, prongs and signage panels.

Slimline's bespoke offer can be supplied at any height with no set post dimensions. Unlike other systems this allows you to design the system around your specific requirements, and not confine you to a predetermined set of dimensions. Our system can be powder coated to any RAL specification with timber infill panels available in veneer, melamine, laminate and painted finishes. The system is simple to install and can be moved easily for cleaning or maintenance purposes.
